BC Ministry of Social Development and Poverty Reduction

Information Services Division
Victoria, British Columbia

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my keen interest in the Technology Co-op Placement at BC Ministry of Social Development and Poverty Reduction. As a current undergraduate student in the field of computer and software engineering, I have had the opportunity to acquire a diverse set of technical skills, which I believe will be instrumental in this role.

I am familiar with some automated test tools and am confident in my abilities to quickly adapt and learn any new tools and skillset. My proficiency in using office productivity application tools for my everyday work, such as Microsoft Outlook, Word, Excel, and PowerPoint perfectly aligns with the job requirements for this role. I am confident that I can adapt quickly to your team's working style and processes.

Throughout my coursework, I have had the opportunity to collaborate with various teams on diverse projects. Currently, I am actively involved in building a software program for Vex Robotics, where I have been able to apply my skills in software application development. One of my most recent projects, T-Rex was particularly rewarding. T-Rex, a cross-platform Java runtime application, emulates the classic gameplay experience on multiple platforms. This project allowed me to develop my programming skills and foster my passion for creating user-friendly applications.

As someone who thrives in an environment dedicated to cooperation and teamwork, I am excited about the prospect of contributing to your team's goals. Furthermore, I am thrilled about the training opportunities being offered to co-op students to develop their knowledge of next-generation cloud technology and development platforms.

Given my current work-term setting, I would be able to take a 4 or 8-month co-op for up to two consecutive terms. Thank you for considering my application.

Most Sincerely,

Arfaz Hossain (He/Him/His)
